

Rubaroo 2k19- Management fest and Alumni meet

- Food fest – Blood donation Camp – Orphanage visit by Sitchar man among them to establish... bo nursery and Bamboo... hunger, pen-stimul, basketry, ... ture, Tripura University.

TU Business Management dept organises alumni meet & fest

■ NEC Report

Agartala, Mar 4 : A dynamic move by the department of business management of Tripura University through organizing Rubaroo 2K19, the management fest and the annual alumni meet of Department of Business Management on Sunday, 3rd March. A series of events were organized throughout the day. Vice Chancellor Prof. V. L. Dharurkar, Chief Guest inaugurated the event and encouraged the students and the alumni for organizing such programme aiming towards a prosperous future of the department. Barnali Goswami, chairperson, Tripura Commission for women encouraged and congratulated the students and alumni's for their endeavour to organize such programme. Prof. Chandrika Basu Majumder, Dean Arts & Commerce motivated the students and the alumni's for their dedication and hard work to uplift this department to newer heights through conducting such programme. Prof. Satyadeo Podder, Director, College Development Council has expressed his views through analyzing the meaning of Rubaroo (Face to Face) and was delighted to be a part of the programme organized by the Department and alumni for the third consecutive year. Dr. Debarshi Mukherjee Head of the Department in his welcome address elaborately explained the objective of this programme and also mentioned various progressive initiatives the department is taking for the development of the students and society. This day event has been sponsored by various renowned organizations like, Tripura Commission for Women, M.P. Jewellers, TIDC, and School of Science, Oriflame, RFL, TTDC and others. A blood Donation camp has also been organized in collaboration with ILS Hospital where many students donated blood. The programme celebrated a youthful 2019 where many competitions like debate, quiz and a fashion show highlighting the spirit of youth and nationalism were organized. The last event was a musical show where students, teachers and other members of the university family participated wholeheartedly.

Food festival celebrated in TU

■ NEC Report

Agartala, Feb 28 : The students of Department of Business Management have embarked upon a journey to organize their annual management fest and alumni meet with great fervour and enthusiasm on 3rd March 2019. The preparation commenced today with a beautifully conceptualized a food festival at Tripura University campus. Over 15 stalls were setup to showcase the diversity of local and Indian cuisine from different departments of Tripura University. The noble objective of this food festival was to raise fund for the orphanage children and develop a sense of entrepreneurial acumen among the students. The food outlets with a variety of mouthwatering homemade delicious dishes tempted and attracted each and everyone alike. Dishes of the festival included like Momo, Paw bhajii, Bangui, dahi chicken, bhapa biriyani cooked in earthen pot, oping their skills and talent. Also, such festivals help student to learn team work, leadership, planning, with overall management skills. The students applied excellent strategy of chicken pakoda, chicken and pork bharta. The food fest was organized with motivate the budding management students which will help them in develpricing in which they offered home cooked food with very nominal rate and could generate revenue of Rs. 25000/- in four hours.

